The Rice Paper is going paperless...

A sharp rise in printing and mailing costs have almost doubled the expense of mailing a hard copy of the newsletter to our membership. Consequently, future Rice Paper editions will be available on our website. Please submit your e-mail address on the website at <http://www.twincitiesjacl.org>. A Rice Paper distribution list will be created, so that members can be notified when a new issue of the newsletter is available each quarter. If you have any questions regarding the new format, please direct your inquiry to info@twincitiesjacl.org or contact a member of the Board.

RICE PAPER

Festival of Nations

The Origami Booth was another success this year because of all our wonderful volunteers. We had quite an assortment of different cards, magnets and pins this year along with more wonderful mobiles, origami on a stick and ribbon fish.

Special thanks go to Lil Honda, Jenny Olsen, Gloria Kumagai, Rachel Matsumoto and Carolyn Sandberg (who helped for 2 1/2 days) for making all the items in the booth. Kudos go to the staff that helped set up and take down the booth; Lil Honda, Sam Honda, Danielle Savitt, Mari Thompson, Gloria Kumagai, Cheryl Dulas, and Marissa Dulas.

All of this would not have been possible without the hours of help from my staff of volunteers; Michelle Reed, Mary Reed, Lisa Shakerin, Carolyn Sandberg, Sylvia Farrells, Ann Elward, Mary Smith, Larry Matsumoto, Mary Matsumoto, Gloria Kumagai, Marissa Dulas, Cheryl Dulas, Mari Thompson, Jenny Olsen, Samantha Wagner, Danielle Savitt, Lil Honda, Sakaye Hinataya and Mary Remmers.

Thank you, Thank you, Thank you, this booth would not have been possible without all of your help. If I have forgotten anyone I express my sincere apologies I have tried to remember all my fantastic helpers.

Marissa Dulas and Mari Thompson assist in the origami booth.
