ONLINE/SILENT AUCTION

May 10-May 17 (Items will be on display at opening ceremony)

Dear Friends,

This online/silent auction is the last of our fundraising efforts to support the exhibit titled, “Japanese-Americans in the Military Intelligence Service during World War II”. This exhibit of unique wartime photographs will be on display at the Historic Fort Snelling Visitor Center and is sponsored by the Minnesota Historical Society and the TC JACL. The opening ceremony and reception will be held at the Historic Fort Snelling Visitor Center Auditorium on Sunday, May 17 at 1 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

This auction is a continuation of an earlier online auction (April 4-April 16). For your bidding pleasure we are pleased to offer many wonderful auction items, the majority of them “vintage”. Items have been graciously donated by several people. One of the donors, Phyllis Jokyll, worked for the US Embassy in Tokyo during the early 1950’s. Steve Ozone, a committee member and noted Twin Cities artist, whose works have received much acclaim donated one of his beautiful prints (see item #43).. Louise Platt and Jean and Wayne Takeshita donated items that they have treasured for many years.

We know you will find something to interest you and hope you will bid often. Remember that all of the proceeds will benefit the exhibit and related programming. Questions can be directed to nayem001@umn.edu. Thank you for your support.

Co-chairs: Sally Sudo and Carolyn Nayematsu of the JACL Education Committee.

ONLINE AUCTION RULES

Online email bids will be accepted starting May 10, 2015. Email your bid to nayem001@umn.edu with the following information: your name, email address, telephone number, item #, item description, and bid. You can bid on as many items as you would like. Also, bids will be accepted on May 17 at Fort Snelling. All email bids will be listed.

You will be notified that your bid(s) has been received.

Because the online auction concluded April 16 and the deadline for the Rice Paper submission was April 13, it is possible that the items you bid on were sold during the first phase of the auction. If so we will try to notify you via email.

Items can be picked up at Fort Snelling on May 17 after the ceremony. If unable to attend, you will be notified by email if you have won the item and where the item can be picked up.

Payments may be made by check, payable to TC JACL Education Fund, or cash. We cannot accommodate credit cards.

The author combines his “conversations: with the veterans and his portraits of them. The title, Twice Heroes, echoes President Truman’s words to the Nisei soldiers, “You fought not only the enemy, but you fought prejudice, and you have won.” (taken from book cover)

Item #43 Garlic Scapes #2. Pigment print on fiber-based paper by Steve Ozone, 12”x20”x2”. Mounted in shadow box. Value $500

Steve Ozone is a well-known and award-winning Minnesota artist and a member of the JACL Education Committee.

Steve says this about his creations: When my Japanese and Chinese grandparents left Asia, they saw America as a new start and believed in the necessity of leaving the old ways behind. The result: my generation-sisters, brother, and cousin have lost much in the way of culture and language in realizing our elder’s assimilation dreams. My work aims at reconciling the tensions between what I feel I’ve lost versus what I’ve gained in the attainment of the “American Dream”. Through this exploration of my heritage and origin, I also seek to reconcile the tension that exists in being both Japanese and Chinese. This-tension is born of a history my American born sisters, brother, and cousins and I have no responsibility for and only a vague awareness of, yet it shaped our parents view of the world, and therefore, our foundational understanding as well. To date, much of my work has explored this warring and internment history through images of food and portraiture.
